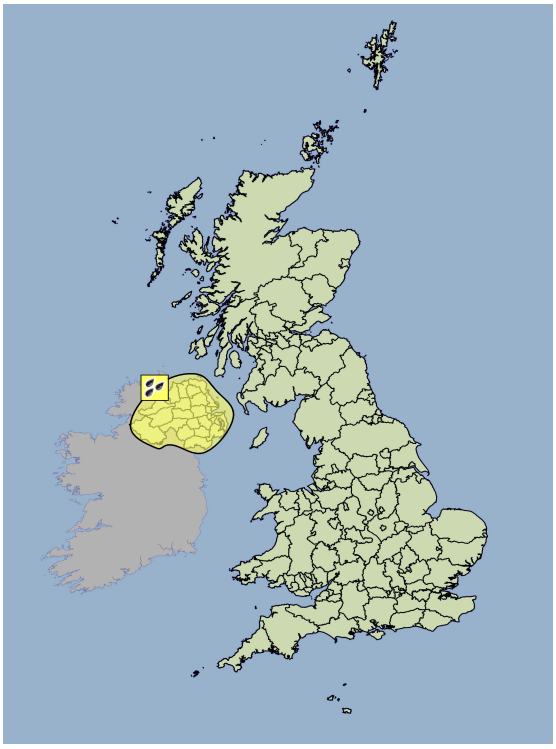
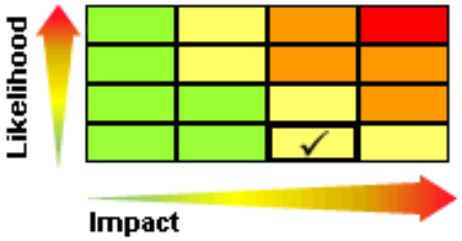
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
An unstable airmass is expected across Northern Ireland on Tuesday with heavy, thundery showers developing, possibly producing in excess of 25 mm in 3 hours locally. However, as is often the case with showers, many parts will miss the worst and a few places could escape with a dry day.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 06:00 on Tue, 05th Aug 2014 until 21:45 on Tue, 05th Aug 2014

Heavy, and perhaps thundery, showers are expected across parts of Northern Ireland on Tuesday.

The public should be aware of the risk of localised flooding and potential disruption to transport and outdoor events.
